CHARGING & REMISSIONS POLICY

Introduction

The following sections set out the policy of the school in respect of charging for school activities and school visits, in accordance with sections 449-462 of the Education Act 1996.

Where appropriate, the sections also set out the policy of the school with regard to remissions, i.e. the circumstances in which the school may decide to remit (wholly or partly) any charge which would otherwise be payable in accordance with the charging policy.

The school's governing body aims to provide activities which enrich a broad and balanced curriculum. However, it is recognised that many educationally valuable activities have been, and will continue to be, dependent on financial contributions in whole or in part by parents or carers. Without that financial support, Oaklands Junior School would find it impossible to maintain the quality and breadth of educational experiences provided for its pupils.

Activities for which voluntary contributions are requested

Parents or carers will be asked to make an annual voluntary contribution towards technology, art, craft, needlework and cooking, in order that the school can supply a wider variety of materials, without asking parents to provide these or contribute to the cost of items taken home. The amount of the annual voluntary contribution requested will be agreed by the Finance and Premises Committee.

In addition, parents and carers will be asked to make voluntary contributions when:

- activities are organised which are considered to be 'non-essential' but will enhance pupils' learning such as visiting theatre groups, musicians, etc.
- optional activities which occur outside school hours (including lunch time), where costs are incurred
- day and part day educational visits are undertaken. For visits occurring during school time, the headteacher will ask for a voluntary contribution from parents to meet the cost of the visit
- residential trips are arranged. Parents and carers will be charged the full cost of transport and accommodation and will be invited to make a voluntary contribution to the cost of all activities

- swimming lessons are undertaken. The headteacher will invite parents to make a voluntary contribution to cover the costs

Where voluntary contributions are insufficient to cover the costs involved, the trip or activity may be cancelled.

Breakage, damage and loss

Where a pupil's behaviour results in loss or damage to school property or equipment, parents or carers may be asked to pay for the necessary repair or replacement when:

- pupils damage or lose school equipment and or property, only when it is clear that the damage was wilful or resulted from not following rules, guidance or warnings
- library books are lost or damaged

Tuition by Third Parties

Teachers from outside peripatetic organisations may provide a variety of tuition lessons during the school day, e.g. instrumental music lessons. Parents or carers will be charged directly each term to cover the full costs of these lessons.

Additional costs

Parents or carers will be required to pay for:

- school photographs
- school meals
- school uniform
- books, stationery and materials, for pupil's personal use, in addition to those provided by the school

Financial hardship

Pupil Premium funding will be used to cover the costs for those pupils who receive Free School Meals or who are on the Ever6 register.

In cases of other financial hardship which make it difficult or impossible for pupils to take part in particular activities for which a charge has been made, parents are invited to apply to the school (through the headteacher), in confidence, for funding to be sought through Pupil Premium, charitable organisations or waived wholly or in part.
